Improving Your English

1. A lot of people are always asking, "How do I improve my English?" There are many possible answers, but here are just a few pieces of advice.

Be responsible for your own learning
Sure you have teachers, reading materials, and websites to help you with your English, but who is really responsible for making sure you learn English well? Nobody but you. Make sure you are the one who is taking charge of your own learning.

Immerse yourself in English as much as possible
Immerse means to be surrounded by something. If you are immersed in English, it is all around you. Of course this isn’t always possible, but you can do some things to surround yourself in English from time to time.

Listen to the radio in English. If there are no English radio stations where you live, listen to one on the internet.

Watch TV and movies in English. If you have English channels on your TV, watch them. If they have subtitles (the words written in your language) underneath the picture, see if they can be turned off. Some people even tape paper across the bottom of the screen so they can't see the words. Most DVD’s are great because you can choose the language you want to hear.

Speak English to your friends. Get a conversation buddy (friend) and speak in English as much as possible. If it is a person whose native language is the same as your own, you may feel silly speaking in English at first. But don’t worry. Continue to do it and it will become more natural to you. Finding friends whose native language is English is even better. Ask your friend to correct you when needed.

Study or travel to an English-speaking country. Of course the best way to immerse yourself in the English language is to live in an all English environment. You’ll find yourself surrounded with the language everywhere you turn. It can be a more difficult and expensive choice, but you may find it to be a very valuable and helpful experience.

Other ideas. Take an English class, join an English group, find a tutor, read English magazines. Do whatever you can to immerse yourself in the language.

Monitor yourself
This means to pay attention to how you use English. Think (a little) about how you are going to say something before it comes out of your mouth. But don’t think about all of the problems you have in English at the same time. Just choose something you know you are having difficulty with and work on using it correctly. For example, if you know that you have problems remembering to use a, an, and the, spend a few days trying to put them into sentences as you speak. Don’t worry about anything else. Concentrate on that. When you feel that you are improving, choose something else to work on. Just keep trying and little by little, your English will get better everyday.

PART B: ANALYSIS OF MULTIMEDIA

Read the following instruction and use it to answer the question given.

Political Election

You are planning to run for Parliament in the next election as the People’s Representative of your district. Select ONE of the following methods of multimedia that you studied in class to help you in your campaign. Write at least 100 words.

1. Advertisement
   Create a poster advertising why people should vote for you in the next election.

2. Debate
   Create a debating dialogue of FIVE arguments FOR and AGAINST the significance of why you should be the best candidate to represent your district.

3. Report
   Write a report on who you are to the District Officer stating why he should support your campaign.

4. Interview
   You were interviewed by one of the local newspaper where you shared who you are and what you stand for. This interview was so people could determine whether they should vote for you or not. Write an interview of FIVE questions and answers that you participated in.

QUESTION THREE: FORMAL WRITING

Choose ONE of the topics below and write about 200 words giving your ideas.

- Spend about 35 minutes on this Question.
- Choose ONE of the formal writing styles and topics below to express your thoughts on.
- Support your ideas with details and examples.
- Write at least 200 words.
- Give your piece of writing a TITLE.

1. SPEECH Situation: “New beginnings” can take many forms, such as a new school year, a new sports season, moving to a new home, or changing a habit.

   Writing task: Write a speech about a time when you experienced a “new beginning.” How has a new beginning affected you? How did that experience help you?

2. REPORT: There have been so many driving accidents this year involving drunk driving. As a result, people often get hurt, and unfortunately a few die.

   Writing task: Write a formal report to the Minister of Police about this issue. Explain what is currently being done about this problem and suggest what else can be done to decrease these accidents.

3. LETTER WRITING: A group in your community has been able to raise enough money to award full scholarship for only three students in your village. This scholarship will pay for your school and books fees in university, as long as you keep your grades up (i.e. 80% or better for each course). Part of the requirements for the scholarship is for applicants to write a formal letter.

   Writing task: Part of the requirements for the scholarship, for those who are applying to write the scholarship group is a formal letter. You are to write a formal letter to the scholarship group, explaining clearly why you should receive this scholarship.
4. NEWSPAPER ARTICLE: In an effort to promote better relationships in the community, an entire issue of your local newspaper will be devoted to acts of kindness. These acts could include a student standing up for another student, someone helping his or her neighbour during a difficult time, or an individual volunteering to make someone’s life easier.

Writing task: Write an article for a local newspaper about the importance of being kind to others. Tell about a time when you observed or participated in an act of kindness. Support your response with details or examples.

5. FORMAL ESSAY: Choose only ONE of the following topics and write a formal essay. Follow the instructions for writing that go along with the topic you have selected.

Writing task - Either:

A. The classroom is not the only place where there are rules. Write an essay to inform your teacher about a rule or a set of rules you have been asked to follow outside of the classroom. Be sure to tell the rule or set of rules and the ways that the rules have influenced you or have been important to you.

OR

B. School is not the only place we learn. Write an essay to inform your teacher about something you learned outside of school. Be sure to tell what you learned and the ways that what you had learned has helped you or has been important to you.

YOU WILL REWARDED FOR

* Clear information and ideas
* Suitable language and style
* Organisation of ideas
* Support of ideas
